original

Today, I started to write this diary to improve my English skill.
In the morning, I got exercised. I was so exhausted that I can't study after that.
After exercising, I sent my books to the customer. It was my first time to do that.
In the evening, I started to study physics, especially thermodynamics. However it was too difficult for me to fully understand it. So, I quit studying it right away.

revised

Today, I started writing this diary to improve my English skills.
In the morning, I exercised. I was so exhausted that I couldn't study afterward.
After exercising, I sent some books to a customer. It was my first time doing that.
In the evening, I started studying physics, especially thermodynamics. However, it was too difficult for me to fully understand, so I stopped studying it right away.

The road was so slippery that I almost fell down. The icy surface made the road dangerously slippery.
If I don't want don't study physics tomorrow, I will make many gyoza.
If I don't feel like studying physics tomorrow, I'll make lots of gyoza.
